SWINDLER HOLDS LORD MAYOR UP FOR $2500

REMINISCENCE OF THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR WELL WORTH TELLING.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 30.—Lord mayors of London come and go year by year, but Sir William Soutcy, who has just been appointed for the fortieth time lord mayor's private secretary, seems to go on forever. He has a unique record.

Reticent as to his own career, Sir William can sometimes, though rarely, be induced to talk about his experiences of men and affairs. For instance, he narrates an amusing incident which occurred when in 1871 he was one of the secretaries of the Mansion House fund for the relief of sufferers in the Franco-Prussian war. One afternoon, he says, a well-dressed man called at the mansion and asked for an interview with the lord mayor. He presented an elaborately engraved card bearing the name, Le Marquis de Morancy, Maitre de Chateaudun. Speaking English perfectly, he described in vivid terms the horrors of war in his own town and was so overcome by the pitifulness of his story that he wept as he told it. So touched was the lord mayor that he handed the visitor $2,500 for the relief of the distressed people of Chateaudun and invited the marquis to a Mansion House banquet to be held the same evening, an invitation the marquis gratefully accepted. At the dinner the marquis, probably aided by the hospitable flow of wine, suddenly rose and in a long, eloquent and moving speech thanked the lord mayor for his generosity and touchingly re-told the story of the sufferings of the people of Chateaudun. The speech was reported at length in the morning papers and the lord mayor then found that he had given the $2,500 to one of the cleverest swindlers in Europe.

WINTER QUARTERS AT THE TRAINING CAMPS

GALVANIZED-IRON HUTS TO SHELTER RECRUITS BEFORE SERVICE.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 30.—Carpenters are working day and night at the army encampments to provide winter quarters for the recruits of Lord Kitchener's new force.

The new huts are not warm structures, being either of wooden or corrugated iron walls, with iron roofs. But their completion before winter is considered highly important to the health of the men, who are now sheltered in tents.

About 600,000 men are encamped on the Salisbury plains in the southern part of England. They are being housed at the rate of 6,000 a day. Portable huts are to be sent to the expeditionary force as soon as a fixed base is established.

MAN FOR OFFICE WITHOUT STRINGS TIED TO HIM

CLEAN CUT CANDIDATE WHO IS READY TO DO HIS WHOLE DUTY.

Francis C. Moore, straight Republican candidate for the office of sheriff of Nye county, is closing one of the most remarkable campaigns in the history of the state. In many respects it parallels the experience of Gov. Odell when he was asked "Who pays for the gas?" and Tasker L. made that the battle cry of his campaign, with the result that he was elected by a very nice majority. Mr. Moore, until two months ago, was regularly employed operating a mine hoist and had been engaged in that line of work for many years. He was chosen to oppose the fusion ticket as a representative candidate of the straight Republican party and since the day when he filed his nomination he has been busy making votes and cultivating the voters. He is in the race to win and when any man tries to claim the title of "Law and Order" candidacy he wants the taxpayers to know there is no monopoly of the phrase. Mr. Moore is a firm believer of law and order and is not tying up to any party or factions, which would interfere with his doing his whole duty to the whole people of Nye county.

IN THE WAKE OF CONQUERING ARMY BURYING THE DEAD

FRENCH AND GERMAN REMAINS ARE INTERRED IN SEPARATE TRENCHES.

(By Associated Press.)

ESTERNAY, France, Oct. 30.—Parties of German soldiers separated from the main bodies of troops during the German retreat from the Marne are still hiding in the woods in this vicinity. The French armies passed on and there are too few soldiers left in this part of France to hunt down the German stragglers. They live upon the country, but otherwise commit no depredations.

Along the whole countryside peasants who have returned point out burial places of those who fell in the fierce fighting in this neighborhood for sixty miles to the east. The dead were buried by 800 Paris firemen, assisted by 600 civilian laborers. It is said that the tally kept by the firemen shows that 70,000 dead were buried, about 30,000 of them French. The greatest slaughter was in the marshes near Senanne. Fifteen thousand dead are buried in long trenches at the bottom of a wooded hill.

CROPS IN FRANCE FAR AHEAD OF NATIONAL WANTS

WHEAT, BEET SUGAR AND CHAMPAGNE SHOW ONLY SLIGHT LOSSES.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 30.—The wheat crop, which at the beginning of the war gave the authorities anxiety, has been safely garnered. The agricultural department estimates the yield at 60 to 80 million metric hundred weight, which is more than ten per cent below the yield of 1913. France consumes 80 million hundred weight, and since 10 million hundred weight is required for seeding, the shortage will be from 10 to 30 million hundred weight. With the duty on cereals suspended this shortage will be easily made up.

The beet root crop, which is very important in the north of France, furnishing the raw material for a great many sugar refineries, has suffered from the German occupation. The refineries may be unable to work for some time. In consequence there has been an advance of three cents per pound in the price of sugar and the public has been warned that a further advance is possible.

Next to the beet crop, the most important product in the region of the military operations is champagne. All of the champagne province was temporarily in the hands of the Germans and the heavy fighting of the battle of the Marne extended over the entire length of the wine-growing country. The damage to the crop seems to be less than was expected. Around Espernay in particular the vines seem to have been intentionally spared by the Germans as well as the French, but in other regions the terrible artillery fire that raged for days worked great havoc among the vineyards. Some reports indicate that around Rheims the crop is entirely lost, while further south it has suffered comparatively little.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS BENEFIT CARD PARTY

The Woman's Relief Corps is receiving great encouragement in the sale of tickets for the card party and dance Monday evening at Odd Fellows' hall. This party is one of the most deserving, as the object is to provide funds for the maintenance of the poor during the winter.
